A balance between work, life and money is easier to create when you balance your income and expenses.

1. Gather the information for your worksheet. Add/delete categories that make it useful for you.
2. Remember to include expenses that occur less than regularly (e.g., property taxes, life insurance payments, large medical co-pays, heating oil, major home-maintenance items like exterior painting or replacing a water heater, etc.). Don't forget things like association dues or real estate taxes on vacation properties or timeshares you own.
3. This is an excellent time to organize and clean out all the supporting documents you will be reviewing to complete the Cashflow Worksheet.
4. Total all income and deduct total expenses, and the result is your annual surplus or shortfall. Divide by 12 to get your monthly number.
